

American Goldfinch

The American Goldfinch is a small finch that can be found across North America. It has a small beak that is pink most of the year. After the spring molt the male is a brilliant lemon yellow, with a striking black cap and white rump. The female is mostly brown, lighter on the underside with a yellow bib.

See colors and learn more

