

Black Crowned- Crane

The Black Crowned-Crane is one of two Crowned-Crane species (the other is the Grey Crowned-Crane). These birds are easily recognized by their flamboyant golden head crests. They have a black body plumage highlighted by white and rufous on the wings, plus striking red and white on the cheeks.

See colors and learn more

