

Broad-winged Hawk

The Broad-winged Hawk has brown upper parts and evenly spaced black and white bands on the tail. Light morphs have pale underparts and thick cinnamon bars across the belly.

Dark morphs are a darker brown on both upper parts and underparts. They are much less common than the light-colored variant.

See colors and learn more

