

Crested Caracara

Adult Crested Caracaras have dark bodies and a black cap on the top of their heads. The neck is white, as are the tail and chest, both of which have black bars. A large patch of facial skin ranges from yellowish to reddish-orange, depending on the bird's mood. Males and females look alike.

