

Demoiselle Crane

The Demoiselle Crane is the smallest species of crane in the world. The body plumage is mostly grey, with black along the neck and head, and on the secondary feathers. The fully-feathered head has striking white "ear tufts" that extend behind the reddish-orange eye.

See colors and learn more

