

Egyptian Vulture

The Egyptian Vulture is a relatively small species of Old World vulture that ranges across parts of Africa, southern Europe, and Asia. The adult bird has overall a mostly white plumage, with some dark feathers in the wings and tail. The bald face is yellow.

