

Evening Grosbeak

Evening Grosbeaks are stocky, large members of the finch family. They have exceptionally large and powerful bills. A male Evening Grosbeak in breeding plumage has a bright yellow forehead, flanks, and belly. The tail, chin, cheeks, and top of head are dark brown or black. Their black wings have a prominent white wing patch. The beak is off-white and may be tinged in greenish yellow.