

Green Heron

The Green Heron is a small species of heron found across parts of the Americas. They feed mainly on fish and small aquatic animals. Adult Green Herons have dark green feathers at the back that blend into their dark wings and chestnut neck, white throat, and black cap. The short legs range from yellow to orange.

See colors
and learn more

