Least Tern

The Least Tern is a small species of New World tern. These migratory birds feed on a diet of mostly fish. During breeding season it is recognized by its small size, black cap, yellow bill, and yellow legs. The cap becomes less defined and the bill turns blackish outside of breeding season.

See colors
and learn more

© Birdorable

See the colors and more cute birds at www.birdorable.com