

Piping Plover

The Piping Plover is a small sand-colored shorebird that nests and feeds along coastal beaches in North America. They have yellow-orange legs and bill, a black band across the forehead, and a black ring around the neck. They face various population threats and are considered to be a Near Threatened species.

See colors and learn more

