

Rüppell's Vulture

The Rueppell's Vulture is a large species of Old World vulture that lives across central Africa. These birds are variable in their plumage, with body feathers ranging from brown to grey and black. Their bare necks have a fluffy base of white feathers. Their eyes are amber-colored.

