

Stork-billed Kingfisher

The Stork-billed Kingfisher is found across parts of India and southeast Asia. Another name for this species is Brown-headed Kingfisher. There are at least 15 recognized subspecies, all with different plumage variations. A brown head, buff underparts, green-blue upperparts, and red bill are common features.