

Wattled Crane

The Wattled Crane is the largest species of crane found in Africa. They are dependent on wetland habitat. Wattled Cranes have grey body plumage, white necks, and prominent white wattles hanging below the upper throat. Males and females look alike, though males are larger.

See colors
and learn more

